PROGRAM BACKGROUND
The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program was established by the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and is administered through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The CDBG Program is a flexible program that provides community with funding to address a wide range of unique community development needs. The primary objective of the CDBG program is "the development of viable urban communities, by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment and expanding economic opportunities, principally for persons of low and very low income."

ELIGIBILITY
An application will be deemed eligible if each federal requirement is addressed and the application is completed in accordance with the CDBG program requirements. Each proposed project must:

- Support activities to end homelessness.
- Support activities that strengthen neighborhoods.
- Promote fair housing choice.
- Provide for a suitable living environment for all residents and income levels.

INCOME REQUIREMENTS

All funded projects and activities must meet the CDBG national objective of benefiting low to moderate income persons which is defined as “under 80% Area Median Income (AMI)”, (see current chart below). The AMI is subject to change based on HUD’s annual calculations and must be adjusted and adhered to throughout the life of the grant and subsequent affordability period.
