Monterey 250 - Colton Hall Evening Music Series
William Faulkner Jalisco Harp

The Museums and Cultural Arts Commission invites you to our first concert of the Colton Hall Evening Music Series celebrating Monterey's 250th birthday year. Please join us in welcoming William Faulkner and his Jalisco Harp on Thursday, February 13, 2020 in Historic Colton Hall.

William has played harp since 1979. Director of the Mariachi Mixtlán from 1980 through 1998 and solo harpist since 1983, William and his harp have traveled throughout California and the Southwestern United States as well as various parts of Mexico. The harp was introduced into the Spanish colonies of North, Central and South America by the Spaniards, and the Jalisco harp has remained essentially unchanged for at least two centuries. Let William bring you his unique sound of early Californio music and Mexican favorites transporting you to an earlier vibrant music-filled time.

The Museums and Cultural Arts Commission sponsors this free concert, and welcomes the public. It begins at 7:30 P.M. lasting approximately one hour. Seating is limited; reservations are required and can be made by calling 831-646-5640 - The building is ADA accessible.
